Contact Amy at email amy@shojai.com or office 903-868-1022

1. How did you get into “pet” writing?
2. What pets do you have, and how do they influence your work?
3. What do you hope to accomplish with your nonfiction books?
4. What is a certified animal behavior consultant? Are you a “pet whisperer?”
5. Can you describe the top “pet peeves” that drive pet parents crazy? What are some quick tips for solving them?
6. Your blog is called “Bling, Bitches & Blood” and you mention wearing a rhinestone #1 Bitch Pin. What’s that all about?
7. You’ve written more than two dozen nonfiction pet books. Why fiction?
8. Is fiction harder or easier to write than nonfiction?
9. How—and why—did you decide to write “dog viewpoint” in your thrillers LOST AND FOUND and HIDE AND SEEK? Does the dog talk?
10. Both the first book LOST AND FOUND as well as the sequel HIDE AND SEEK include a trained Maine Coon cat. That’s got to be fiction, because you can’t train a cat—or can you?
